REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

The following is an Examiner's Statement of Reasons for Allowance:

Claims 59- 64 are allowed because none of the prior art references of record teaches a printing fluid container comprising a reservoir body that includes a shoulder portion having a width that is approximately the same as a width of the lid and a rear portion having a width that is less than the width of the shoulder portion, wherein the rear portion and the shoulder portion are connected by a rim portion that is approximately parallel to the lid, and wherein the shoulder portion is sized to mate with an ink container bay of an ink container supply station, and the rear portion is selectively sized to cooperate with the shoulder portion to provide a desired amount of ink capacity in the combination as claimed.

Claim 65 are allowed because none of the prior art references of record teaches a printing fluid container comprising an interface package that is arranged on a planar outer-face of an lid of the container, wherein the interface package includes an electrical interface; and a reservoir body that includes a shoulder portion having a width that is approximately the same as a width of the lid, and a rear portion having a width that is less than the width of the shoulder portion, and wherein the rear portion and the shoulder portion are connected by a rim portion that is approximately parallel to the lid in the combination as claimed.

Claims 66-80 are allowed because none of the prior art references of record teaches an off-axis fluid container to hold a volume of printing fluid comprising a first recessed portion of a front face intermediate an air interface and a fluid interface; a second recessed portion of the front face intermediate the first recessed portion and a right edge; and an electrical interface on the front face intermediate the first recessed portion and the left edge in the combination as claimed.
